

@ The Houston Design Center

Ben Johnston/Avondale Design Studio

I often say that, as a designer, I am only as good as my resources and those with whom I collaborate. The invaluable resources at the Houston Design Center (products and people!) help me and Avondale Design Studio to create beautiful spaces with and for our clients. We absolutely love coming to the Houston Design Center as it provides a beautiful atmosphere to shop and get inspired. We look forward to many more years of fruitful collaboration!

Avondale Design Studio 912 Lovett Blvd., Suite A Houston TX, 77006 Phone (713) 876-0432 Email ben@avondaledesignstudio.com www.avondaledesignstudio.com

Ben Johnston Avondale Design Studio

Since co-founding Avondale Design Studio in 2011, sixth-generation Houstonian Ben Johnston has become known for creating beautifully composed interiors that draw upon his clients' own tastes and personalities. He does this while bringing the classic design principles of balance and simplicity to the spaces through clean lines and tailored details; sensibilities that he gained through his study and practice of architecture.

Even though he enthusiastically works in many styles, Ben's personal tastes lean toward a purified, neoclassical foundation, upon which he layers texture and character to synthesize various cultures and periods of design. He prefers tone-on-tone palettes that build toward a sense of inevitability and harmonious balance, with unexpected moments within the design to delight and surprise.

Avondale Design Studio
912 Lovett Blvd., Suite A
Houston TX, 77006
Phone (713) 876-0432
Email ben@avondaledesignstudio.com
www.avondaledesignstudio.com

june 2015