Dean of Clean professional window cleaning and house washing

Dean Oufnac, owner of Dean of Clean Professional services, a professional window cleaning and house washing service, began his business out of both opportunity and necessity. "After Hurricane Harvey flooding in Aug 2017 severely affected my area and myself, I needed a new career and wondered what I could do that people need both immediately and in the future!" Since I did window cleaning and pressure washing in college several years ago, I decided to start my own business doing it for myself. I refocused my knowledge and skill set, plus invested in quality equipment. It has been the best thing I could have ever done. I have a positive career that offers a service people appreciate and need. Houston has a climate that facilitates mold and mildew growth on buildings. We also have an abundance of dust and pollen which builds up on windows and buildings. It is my pleasure to clean all this material off and make homes and buildings super clean. I also enjoy making people happy when they see the results of how their property looks after I finish. For more information about Dean of Clean, visit deanofclean.biz

Origins of... Memorial City Mall and CityCentre

Constructed by MetroNational in the early 1960s, and completed in 1966, Memorial City Mall has grown to be one of Houston's most popular malls. However, if you've lived in Memorial long enough, you know that when it opened, it was a very middle-market shopping venue, with Sears, Walgreen Drug, Piccadilly Cafeteria and an S.H. Kress variety 5 and 10 store. A single-screen cinema, the Memorial Theater, which opened in June 1962, was also connected with the interior mallway. A Montgomery Ward was added, as a second anchor store, in 1972.

In 2009 CityCentre became the newest addition to Memorial shopping centers. Originally Town & Country Mall, the Midway Companies developed center includes elegant dining, upscale apartments and voguish retail.

Convenience and quality are top priority at The Houston Design Center, the city's preferred destination for the best in residential and commercial furnishings, products, and services.

If the new year has you inspired for change, whether starting anew with a kitchen remodel or renovating an office space, The Houston Design Center is your one-stop destination.

Boasting more than 45 showrooms and design firms – including Chapman Designs, Lucinda Loya Interiors, Design House, Scene One Interiors, Karen Kramer & Associates, and Teri Pugh Studio – The Houston Design Center is well-staffed with design experts. A wide variety of design services along with top-of-the-line product knowledge and personalized service gives you the perfect tools to complete any project, commercial or residential.

Open to the trade and public, visitors shop at the Center for interior furnishings, unique fabrics, wall and floor coverings, lighting, art, antiques, contemporary furnishings, and fixtures for home or office. Conveniently open on Saturdays are shops such as MAI Memorial Antiques & Interiors, Design House, James Craig Furnishings, Leisure Collections, Renaissance Windows & Doors, LGI Oriental Rugs, and Charlotte Nail Antiques. Suit your design needs with top-notch service at the Houston Design Center, located inside the Loop at 7026 Old Katy Road, just north of I-10 between North Post Oak Lane and Washington Avenue. 713-864-2660; thehousatondesigncenter.com.
