The Houston Design Center

Courtney Blair and Lindsay C. Robinson/Tokerud + Co

The Houston Design Center is a wonderful resource for our company and clients. We enjoy the varied choices from lighting to rugs to tile and stone in one place.

The Houston Design Center also offers quality educational programs and brings in top panels to keep our industry informed and knowledgeable.

Courtney Blair and Lindsay C. Robinson Tokerud + Co

Following in the footsteps of their beloved mentor and founder, Marlys Tokerud, designers Courtney Blair and Lindsay C. Robinson, and office manager Torri Tokerud have partnered to continue the firm's legacy.

Courtney began honing her skills and love of contemporary design with Tokerud + Co in 2007. She brings strong space planning expertise to each project and incorporates a sense of style by combining unique and quality materials and furnishings. Lindsay's career began with Tokerud + Co in 1999 and after a sabbatical in California as a kitchen and bath designer, she returned to Houston and the design firm in 2012. Along with strong project oversite skills, Lindsay brings proficient knowledge of construction and technical details to every project.

Tokerud + Co is known for their East meets West philosophy; carefully weaving a handcrafted aesthetic with sleek sophisticated backgrounds. Understanding how their clients live in their space is an important part of creating an ideal environment. The designers believe that collaboration is key and creating the perfect team is the only way to achieve design success.
