Marvin Morris & Steve Hullinger/Morris Hullinger

What an incredible asset The Houston Design Center has been for Morris Hullinger Design Build over the years. The combination of so many resources under one roof is fantastic, but that general concept is not what makes the HDC unique. It's the great people and the uber professional staff that we love and keeps us coming back....

Our heartfelt thanks to all our friends at The Houston Design Center who have helped us create some amazing homes and cheers to many more to come!

Marvin Morris and Steve Hullinger Morris Hullinger Design Build

As the name implies, Morris Hullinger Design Build provides the total package - combining full home and landscape design services with complete construction supervision and interior design. The result is one firm managing all of the many moving parts, creating a seamless and harmonious transition from the design through the entire construction of projects for clients and for sale on the retail market.

Partners Marvin Morris (B.A. University of Virginia) and Steve Hullinger (B.E.D. College of Architecture at Texas A&M) combine over 35 years of experience in the design and construction industry while together creating over $50 million in luxury residential projects in Houston, Austin and Nashville.

The Morris Hullinger team remains focused on designing and constructing luxury homes for custom clients, partnering with other top architects and interior designers for client projects and producing Houston's most innovative and highly acclaimed speculative homes for sale.
