Shane Cook/Shane Cook Designs

Collaborating with the showroom teams at the Houston Design Center is always a pleasant and educational experience. We enjoy working with them to make Shane Cook Designs' projects both as well appointed and technically coordinated as possible. And, the location and environment of the HDC make the whole experience even more enjoyable.

Shane Cook Designs is a full service design firm providing services in both residential and commercial "ground up" new construction and interior design, as well as additions and/or remodeling. Project management services are also offered. They are known for our expertise in designing modern contemporary structures and spaces. Shane Cook Design is also often recommended for lighting design consultation to feature home art collections. Their projects have been featured in many local, regional, and national magazines.

Shane's training in architecture and his work with corporate interiors have led him to develop a unique form of interior architecture, as well as more informed building designs. Shane has gained much recognition with his accomplishments through both local and national design awards and magazine publications; one of the most fun of those being an episode for HGTV's show "House Crashers."
